Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, called for a volunteer international police force. The move was interpreted by some observers as an admission that the UN cannot work without force. Others believed formation of such a force would precipitate a series of wars.

Newspapermen were asked to leave a session of the Parliamentary Committee on Human Rights in Ottawa while committee members decided whether or not the text of a brief by a committee for a Bill of Rights, should be read into the record. It was decided to have the brief read and to record that fact only.

In Berlin, British authorities have stopped issuing passes into the Russian zone. The action followed Russian refusal to accept normal Allied inter-zonal passes.

General W. G. L. McNaughton today joined the U.S. and Britain in a recommendation that the master of atomic control be referred to the UN Assembly. The time has come, he said, to put the problem of atomic control before the world for a final test of opinion. All nations of the Security Council except Russia and the Soviet Ukraine backed the U.S. plan.

In Britain, youths of 18 to 25 are to get the benefit of political blandishments during the next two years. Both Labor and Conservative parties are trying to capture the imaginations (and the votes) of young people before the election, expected in 1950.

The International Conference on Safety at Sea, meeting in London, agreed on a regulation which will make it necessary for all ships of more than 1,000 tons to keep a 24-hour continuous radio-watch for distress signals.

Robert F. Sherwood, writing in an American magazine, said records of wartime conferences, kept by the late Harry Hopkins, create the impression that Russia was more interested in playing power politics than in obtaining military supplies from the U.S.

In the Canadian Senate, a motion to have the question of the oleo-margarine ban in Canada referred to the Supreme Court, was passed unanimously. Said Senator W. Roebuck: It is a matter of property and civil rights "exclusively" delegated to the provincial legislature by the BNA Act.

Dollar-Saving Plan Produces Results

Imports From U.S. Decrease, While Exports Increasing

By D'Arcy O'Donnell

OTTAWA, June 11.—(CP)—Canada's dollar-conservation program is beginning to show results, Trade Minister Howe told Commons yesterday. Imports from the United States are being reduced month by month while exports to American markets are increasing.

Imports from the U.S. during the first quarter of this year totalled $187,000,000. This was $10,000,000 higher than in the corresponding quarter of 1947, but was lower than the last two quarters of 1947.

The greatest savings had been made in imports of automotive equipment.

Turning to trade with Britain, Howe said imports from that country are rising while exports to the U.K. are increasing only slightly.

The minister made the statement as the commons returned to study his departmental estimates of expenditure for the next two weeks. He also said the estimates of the transport department, the secretary of state for the civil service, public archives and the public printing and stationery branch.

When radio services estimates of the transport department were reached, Douglas Ross (PC-Toronto St. Paul's) said the government must abolish the annual $2.50 radio license fee. Chevrolet and Knowles defended the tax and said it amounted to about five cents a week.

Big Boost In Meat Price Seen

It won't come Sunday or even in the next two or three weeks," he said. Many things had to be considered before the step is taken. Beef prices have risen sharply in Edmonton during the past month—wholesale prices of average beef increased from 23½ cents a pound to 27 cents per pound, with corresponding increases in retail prices, stated one packaginghouse official.

Retail prices of beef have gone up between 10 and 12 cents at most meat markets contacted today were in process of holding meat prices at the time The Bulletin called.

Several Edmonton meat-packing houses stated that "we are losing money on many of our wholesale sales—we can't keep such a procedure going."

One packaginghouse official said, "This is an unusual situation. We can't tell what's going to happen. Experience doesn't mean anything now."

He described the demand for beef as "terrific" and said that it is "unusual for beef prices to go as high as this."

The pork market was described as "fairly strong." But if beef prices jump, it is expected that consumers will turn to pork-eating to a greater extent.

This will possibly force up the price of pork, city dealers said.

GREATER DEMAND

Consumer demands for "prepared" meats is high now, partly because of high fresh meat prices and partly because this is the season when housewives turn more to prepared meats.

Consumer resistance will be

Calgary Port May Be Rebuilt

CALGARY, June 11.—(Friday)—(CP)—The Calgary Albertan in a newspaper story today said the federal government is considering reconstruction of the Calgary municipal airport at a cost of more than $2,000,000.

New runways from 6,000 to 7,000 feet long and 150 feet wide are planned for the airport if the scheme goes through. At present the airport has a 6,200-foot runway and three shorter ones.

Airport and civic officials were not immediately available for comment.

However, it is known that work on extending and improving existing runways has been halted for several days and it is believed the halt may have been called pending outcome of talks with Ottawa officials.

Several runways broke up this spring at the airport due to the unusually wet spring and to use of heavy North Star aircraft by Trans-Canada Airlines. The airport now is a major stop on TCA's mainline route.

The Albertan said "there now are rumors TCA is considering pulling out of Calgary unless better runway facilities are provided."

OTTAWA, June 11.—(CP)—A. T. Cowley, director of air services in the transport department, today discounted reports that the Calgary municipal airport might be abandoned by Trans-Canada Airlines as a major stopping-point.

"We are fully apprised of any situation regarding the Calgary airport and steps are being taken to meet any emergencies," he said. Mr. Cowley was commenting on a report that runway improvements had been halted, possibly because of talks with officials in Ottawa.

He declined to go beyond his general statement at the moment.

about the only thing to stop the meat-price spiral, most meat men agreed.

Earlier this year, when prices took a big jump, Pacific coast citizens refused to buy meat, and packing houses report that very little meat was shipped to the coast.

What effect consumer resistance will have in Edmonton if Eastern Canadian markets, (and U.S. markets, if the expected cattle-export trade is lifted) remain strong, is anybody's guess.

Peg Man Heads Credit Granters

CANFEE, June 11.—(CP)—Harold Ganser of Winnipeg last night was elected president of the Credit Granters Association of Canada at closing sessions of the International Credit Conference. He succeeds S. F. Richards of Toronto.

Earlier yesterday Dean Ashby of Omaha, Neb., was elected president of the National Retail Credit Association.

143 Nominees Contest Saskatchewan Vote

REGINA, June 11.—(CP)—Premier Douglas' CCF party, in power in Saskatchewan for the last four years, nominated candidates for every seat yesterday when nominations closed for 50 seats to be decided in the Saskatchewan elections June 24. Another two seats will elect members July 22.

The Liberals entered 40 candidates. Social Credit 36 and Progressive Conservatives nine. The Progressive Conservatives have not had a representative in the legislature since 1934. One Labor-Progressive candidate is entered, making the overall total 143.

Premier Douglas is opposed by two candidates in Weyburn, F. C. Eaglesham on a joint Liberal-Progressive Conservative ticket, and Mrs. Isobel Faxman, Social Credit. Liberal leader Walter Tucker in Lethbridge faces opposition from George Heilbrat, Social Credit, and Wilbert S. Henschell, CCF. Social Credit chief J. N. Haldeman also is involved in a three-way fight. His opponents in Yorkton are A. P. Swallow, CCF, and Andrew M. Kindred, Liberal. The July voting involves the constituencies of Athabasca and Cumberland, where poor weather prevented candidates and parties from carrying out election work.

The new legislature will present a different appearance from the last in that the three armed services representatives no longer will be holding seats. Their seats were discarded at dissolution recently.

Struggles, Is Bruised, Jailed

Five Officers Required To Subdue Motorist

A street battle with three stalwart constables landed an Edmonton man in the poky on Thursday.

Constable R. D. Bryant charged that Myron Paranch, 10302 80 street, used abusive language when he placed a ticket on a car parked on Jasper near 100A street.

Constable Bryant attempted to take the man into custody, and the battle was on.

Constables Donald McNaughton and Walter Jeandron arrived on the scene within a few minutes, and, after a struggle, succeeded in getting Paranch into the "Black Maria".

Another struggle occurred when the policemen tried to get him into jail, they said.

Further aid was enlisted from Sergeant James Newell and Constable George Watson before the recalcitrant Paranch was safely behind bars.

He was charged with assaulting a police officer and remained until June 18.

Bail was set at $1,000.

Coal Famine Looms Here Govt. Says

Operators, Miners Fail to Meet Govt. Minister

Efforts of government officials to bring about an agreement between Edmonton coal mine operators and the United Mine Workers' union have failed.

Dr. J. L. Robinson, minister of industries and labor, said today that a meeting between the two groups, called by government officials for Thursday, had not been held.

He said Edmonton district operators, who had failed to meet findings of an arbitration board which awarded the miners an increase in pay of two dollars a day this spring, were firm in their stand if they could offer no more than a 75-cent-a-day pay boost.

The meeting for Thursday, which was to have been presided over by K. A. Pugh, acting deputy minister of industries and labor, did not materialize.

Dr. Robinson said the government was interested in the dispute only from the point of view of "public interest."

It is feared continual refusal of Edmonton area miners to return to the pits may mean a coal famine here this winter.

Only in such cases did the government feel it had any right to intervene in an industrial dispute, he added.

He still hopes to be able to bring the two parties together within a few weeks.

Sacred Ministers Staying Home

No Alberta cabinet ministers will be taking part in the Saskatchewan election campaign in support of Social Credit candidates, R. D. Jorgensen, president of the best Social Credit league said today.

A Saskatchewan newspaper had charged there was an "invasion" of the neighboring province by Alberta cabinet ministers and members on the government side in the local legislature.

"Not more than ten of the members will be leaving Alberta to take part in the election," Mr. Jorgensen said.

He had returned from Saskatchewan this morning and reported a strong trend toward Social Credit in the province.

Cleaning house figures for the week ended June 10, 1942. Total for the same week last year was $11,644,692.

Crops Progressing Despite Late Season

Good rains are needed in all Alberta to avoid a serious crop set-back according to the weekly crop reports issued today by both major Canadian Railways.

Both reports indicate that the need for moisture is quite severe in some central sections of the province and the Peace River country needs rain to replenish top soil moisture.

A more cheerful aspect of both reports is the indication that the crop, where seeded and growing, is well up to former years, despite the lateness in the sowing season.

The CNR says wheat seeding in the Edmonton area is completed and the wheat is showing above the ground from two to five inches.

Neighborly Compassion

Mayor Ainsley's fund for the relief of those who have suffered in the British Columbia floods should find thousands of willing supporters in Edmonton.

Those who have returned from visits to the devastated areas have harrowing tales of hardship and loss to tell. The total picture is a catastrophe so stupendous as to be beyond the descriptive powers of word and voice.

But the imaginations of Edmonton people can readily encompass the plight of thousands of families who have been torn from the fancied security of their homes by the irresistible force of furious waters.

In the space of a few days, these families have been reduced from comfort and safety to poverty and danger. Their homes are inundated. Their fields are destroyed. Their livelihood has been washed away.

Now, upon occasion, the people of Edmonton have seen something of the destructive effects of flood. But the calamity in British Columbia is a thousand times worse than anything there has ever happened or could happen here.

Mayor Ainsley has asked the good people of this city to contribute to the relief of the homeless and helpless in our neighboring province.

It is more than a duty to respond. It is a high privilege to be able to alleviate the hardships of those who live in a province where the hazards of nature are infinitely greater than they are here.

It is a call to neighborly compassion in which the people of Edmonton have never shown themselves to be lacking.

Indoctrination in Saskatchewan

It is a serious charge that Walter Tucker, Saskatchewan Liberal leader, levels against the CCF government of his province in the allegation that text books are being used in Saskatchewan schools to propagate the Socialist doctrine.

Mr. Tucker declares that the text book of which he particularly complains lauds the Soviet system under which the masses work only for the state and holds up to ridicule the enterprise and thrift of Canadian parents who seek to better their condition by their own efforts.

If Mr. Tucker represents the situation fairly, as he must, it would be a simple matter to check his statements, the Socialist government of Saskatchewan is committing a serious crime against civilization in prostituting the purposes of education to its own political ends.

The people of Saskatchewan are entitled to the kind of government they choose for themselves. But no government is entitled to perpetuate itself by the indoctrination of youth in the schools.

If Saskatchewan children choose to support a leftist government when they reach the voting age, that is their privilege. But they should have the equipment and the facilities for making an intelligent choice when they arrive at that age. Their capacity for free choice should not be restricted by debauching their education into political propaganda.

If there is one place where political biases should not penetrate, that place is the schools.

Disrespect for the Flag

Edmonton people have been complaining with some vehemence about the disgraceful condition of the flag flown at the Edmonton Exhibition Grounds.

There are similar grounds for complaint about a good many of the flags flown throughout the city.

Some are tattered and faded. Others are partially blown loose. Many are hoisted with knotted and flapping ropes.

Now Canadians are not a people who make a fetish of the flag. Unlike the people of the United States, who make up for the lack of pageantry in their government by adopting the flag as an object of veneration, Canadians are not inclined to be fan-atically concerned about their national standard—if there is such a thing.

But while Canadians do not worship the flag, intelligent Canadians will pay it proper respect.

Although it has no qualities of its own and is no more than a symbol, it is a symbol of something sufficiently important and vital to command proper care and attention.

If Edmonton is going to fly flags at all, and it is a worthy habit, those flags should be clean and bright and respectable.

Sloppy symbols can mean sloppy citizenship.

Modern Marriage by Purchase

There is something sickening about the marital affairs of Mrs. Dorothy Lawlor of New York who has offered herself in marriage to anyone who will pay her $10,000 in cash.

So far this eminently practical lady has had 25 offers. Some of the prospective purchasers have increased the bid. One Oklahoma rancher has raised the ante to $200,000. And another, a Kentucky horse-breeder, has sent along a marked cheque for $100 like a contractor bidding on a house.

Up until yesterday the choice of Mrs. Lawlor was the owner of "Danny's Musical Bar" at Daytona Beach who won her heart by proposing, by telegram, in these touchings words:

"Is you is or is you ain't gonna be my baby?"

The amazing thing is that United States law, which stands nobly against slavery, has no provision to put a stop to this disgusting farce which duplicates, as closely as may be, the old slave auction markets with Mrs. Lawlor standing on the block in the double capacity of auctioneer and item 1.

This transaction may not be a crime against the laws of the United States. But it is certainly a crime against eugenics.

The combination of a woman who would sell herself and a man who has to buy a wife is a pretty deadly and poisonous source of future citizens.

Urges Strong Canadian Stand on Israel Issue

For better or worse the United States, as has repeatedly been said by ourselves and others, has become the leader of the world's tottering civilizations.

It often looks as though that would prove for the worse. If it does there is a barbarous heil waiting in the east it is a no steps.

Between 1942 and early 1947 the U.S. did all it could to assist American troops to triumph in Europe and Asia. The American policy of unconditional surrender, which made it impossible to bring about a general German mutiny in 1944, probably prolonged the war a year, and added mightily to post-war destruction which any peace period must overcome.

The division of the world into spheres of influence at Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam, with complete cynical disrespect for the wishes and interests of the people concerned, advanced the Russian beyond the dreams of Peter the Great or Ivan the Terrible.

The vindictiveness of our original policies in Germany, and the completely false view put over on our military authorities by certain interested persons, namely that the only anti-Nazi victory there came from the extreme left; the subsequent purging of practically all able management and the final, irreparable, destruction of the middle classes, the arrogance which assumed that a military occupation could take over the management of state, industries, trade, schools, universities, clinics and every function of organized life, compounding a military bureaucracy upon a civilian one, of horrendous proportions; the devising of a grotesque scheme on Palestine from whose logical consequences we later withdrew our all these things which have made the problems of peace hardly less than those of war, and which contributed to the revival of nihilism we should have been at pains to avoid, the United States is exactly as responsible as the Soviet Union.

Awakening Of Reason
The Marshall Plan represented the first awakening of reason and sanity. It was motivated by pure self-interest—by the recognition that unless what is left of western civilization is restored, this country will be faced by organized savagery over all Eurasia, and almost certain war. It gave the first ray of hope to Europe. Beyond any doubt it halted Communism in Italy and checked in France. It pulled the European states together, in the first attempt at mutual post-war economic planning.

To defeat it became item one on the agenda of the Communist parties of the world. To defeat it the Wallace party, to enter the American election campaign.

By the nature of the European situation, nearly three-fourths of the first payments was for re-education of the masses. It went into reconstruction of capital industries, to lay the foundations for the future self-support.

Water Pans Are Empty

Editor, Bulletin. — I suggest that the keeper of the zoo who receives a share of the $5,000 annual budget be thrown in with the monkeys, a fate he has long since deserved, for the results of such financial generosity are that the "animate water pans" are normally empty.

Such paid inefficiency is amazing, but so very incomprehensible to the visitors to the zoo, for its reflects the barbaric instincts which still prevail in the monkey, a fate he has long since deserved, for the results of such financial generosity are that the "animate water pans" are normally empty.

Which Sabbath

Editor, Bulletin.—The letter-writer who recently complained of various activities by his neighbors on the Sabbath did not say whether he referred to Saturday or the seventh day of the week, on which day the Jews forbade any manner of work. In this province our rulers have practically put Wednesday in the same category.

This person, like so many of his, or her, ilk probably referred to the Christian Sunday. Since the withdrawal of the English-speaking church from Latin control the system of man has prompted the founding of religious sects until their number is now legion.

These sects have no apostolic heritage they have derived their major inspiration from the Old Testament.

The Christian Sunday is not a negative day like the Jewish Sabbath but is a weekly remembrance of the Resurrection.

By DeWitt Mackenzie FROM TODAY'S NEWS

Harold Stassen, a Republican presidential candidate, appeared before the United States Congress yesterday and argued against the proposal to reduce the billions in federal aid to Germany.

He said it has become a matter of the national honor of the United States.

While Stassen was speaking, there probably were people in the audience who were thinking of the memory of Valast's notable soliloquy on responsibility. It knocks out all existing plans, discourages our friends, and heartens our enemies.

It confirms the general impression abroad that the U.S. moves from impulse to impulse in unreasoning behavior. It certainly is not the exercise of leadership. For leadership depends on patience, firmness, responsibility and consistency. Only these inspire the confidence which is the reward of leadership. To build up hopes and dash them down is to lose respect, not mature, but childish.

rebates are estimated at not less than $500,000 which, of course, came out of the patients' pockets.

The federal government now should cancel the patent licenses which helped to make the combine possible. Other Canadian manufacturers would doubtless be only too willing to provide Canadians with glasses at a reasonable price, if these patents were made available to them.

What action, if any, the medical profession will take against doctors who receive rebates is unknown. But their patients will expect some sort of disciplinary measures.

The essential thing is to restore competition in the manufacture and sale of optical goods. Some retailers, to their credit, have indicated that they accepted the rule of the combine only under duress. There must never again be such a state of affairs in Canada.

Can't Live On the Rich

Editor, Bulletin.—Nationalization is a fool's bugbear. It will never work; a promise is given that can never be kept. A man gets out of life what he puts into it. There are too many rich people. It is true, but we can't all live on the rich, there are not enough of them. I often wonder how many people think of that.

So Canadians, let's pull together and make this a still better Canada.

Optical Combine

Editor, Bulletin.—For nearly 10 years, Canadians have been bothered by a price-fixing optical combine. That is the only conclusion which can be drawn from the report made to Hon. J. L. Halsey by F. A. McGregor, commissioner under the Competition Investigation Act.

If glasses were a luxury, the consumer might, at least, refuse to pay such prices. But to the person who requires them, they are a necessity, sometimes a pressing necessity. Indeed, they are in the same category as other medical accessories.

Because of this, it is disheartening to learn that some doctors were receiving "kickbacks" from dealers. Only a minority were involved. It is true, but the yearly crop, bigger than in years, will be harvested in France and Italy.

Whether the potatoes in Germany were almost starting to rot, it is not clear.

But there may be other considerations.

It may be that the United States, in the years to come, will recover all the Marshall Plan money, and more, from a healthy Europe.

Still another consideration—and still relates to Stassen's argument about "national honor"—is the necessity for the United States to win and hold the confidence of the European countries which are in the forefront of this war.

Ever since Versailles, and the repudiation of President Wilson's plan for a League of Nations, Europeans have found it difficult to be sure that American policy on Friday would be going in the same direction that it had Thursday night.

Whether "national honor" is involved may be debatable. But the effect on European confidence in the United States is not.

Don't Mutilate Marshall Plan

There is great confusion about the Marshall Plan. But some things are clear:

1. The Western nations in general and the British Empire in particular, is honor bound to live up to the promises of the Marshall Plan. It is a solemn word to the restoration of a Jewish national home in Palestine.

2. The United Nations, after thorough investigation and long discussion, decided on the division of the country into separate Jewish and Arab states.

3. The Jews have proclaimed the Republic of Israel in keeping with that United Nations decision—and within the area awarded to them by UN.

4. The real cause of the present war in Palestine is that the United Nations so far has not had the gumption to stand behind its own decision—to call a spade a spade—and to call an aggression an aggression.

Founded On Three Points

The United Nations decision of November 29, 1947, was founded on three points:

1. Jerusalem and Bethlehem were to be made an international "enclave" under a UN governor and to belong neither to the Jewish nor Arab states.

2. Jews and Arabs were both to be authorized and assisted to set up democratic governments in the areas awarded to each.

3. The UN was to assist these two nation-states to coordinate certain of their functions.

The plain fact is that we have war in Palestine today because of the almost unbelievable vacillation of the big powers.

When the UN was assembled on its own support of partition the United Nations Assembly was called for special session. The smaller nations, led by New Zealand and Australia, successfully defeated the attempt to back-track on the 1947 decision. But a by-product of the attempted amendment was to encourage the Arab countries to believe that they could make war against the new Jewish state and get away with it without being branded as aggressors.

Threat of Break-Up

I went to the special session of the UN because I was convinced that if it failed, the world would be with a break-up—this was the time. I watched the brilliant performance of the statesmen of New Zealand delegations. From the very first day of the session it was plain that they were going to defeat the attempt to back-track on the 1947 decision. It was plain that they were standing on it.

The UN has made the best possible decision. The thing to do is to stick to it.

In my opinion the new Jewish state is necessary, not only to establish a new and just Jerusalem neutral zone. And it should brand as aggressors any nations who attempt to force invading armies, to upset the law of decisions of the world body.

The UN should use even physical force, if necessary, to re-establish law and order in the Jerusalem neutral zone. And it should brand as aggressors any nations who attempt to force invading armies, to upset the law of decisions of the world body.

The world's leading bicycle exporting nation, Britain, in 1947, exported of bicycles from the United Kingdom totalled 1,440,602 of a total production of 2,485,928 (including 1,045,326 juvenile bicycles and 1,440,602 bicycles).

This means that on an average a minimum of ten bicycles were exported every minute of every 8-hour working day from United Kingdom ports (excluding Sundays and holidays). On the same basis calculation, 8,200 bicycles are made every day in Britain's factories—or 17 every minute.

Dawson Possesses Modern Hospital

Management of St. Joseph's Plans Further Improvements

DAWSON CREEK, June 11.—The Board of Management of St. Joseph's hospital, Dawson Creek, met recently to discuss work done in 1947 and to plan improvements, necessary work, etc. for the coming year. During the discussion of equipment it was brought out that this hospital is one of the best country hospitals in British Columbia, and has most fully-equipped laundry in the north.

An X-ray machine was provided by local businessmen several years ago at a cost of $3,000. The ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary provided a new surgical table which cost approximately $1,200, and a sterilizer, humidifier and a walk-in refrigerator have all been recently installed also.

The latest machine to be added to the hospital equipment is an electro-cardiograph, which cost $600. This enables heart tests to be made here preventing the necessity of the patient making the long trip out to Edmonton.

In addition to new equipment, the boiler rooms have all been remodelled lately. Work is at present going on in the basement and the foundations are in need of repair. This is estimated at a $10,000 job. The building of a new hospital

Cabbies Fined $1,000

Three Edmonton taxi drivers found "bootlegging" liquor doesn't pay. Fines totalling $1,000 and costs were levied against a trio of drivers in police court today. The three drivers were arrested at different locations in the city Thursday night. Each driver was employed by a separate taxi firm. Joseph Reux, 10437 123 street, with a previous conviction, was fined $500 and costs or four months hard labor for illegal sale of liquor. Reux was reported to have sold a bottle of rye whiskey for $10. Joseph P. Cote, 10336 76 street, was fined $300 and costs or three months hard labor. Cote was said to have sold a case of beer for five dollars. ## Probe Adjourned, But Nearly Over

IODE Counsel Asks Extension to June 21

Royal Commission probing Alberta child welfare was adjourned again today, but the long hearing seemed nearly over.

Chief Justice W. R. Howson granted an adjournment until Monday, June 21, on a telegraphed request from George Steer, K.C., counsel for the IODE.

Previous to the adjournment announcement, Horace Johnson, associate counsel for the Alberta Government, said the government case was complete, unless further cross-examination of witnesses by Mr. Steer made necessary putting in new evidence. Mr. Steer, absent in the east on legal business, previously expressed his desire to cross-examine some of the government witnesses.

In his telegram, read by James C. Mahaffy, K.C., commission counsel, Mr. Steer suggested an adjournment until at least June 17 but said resumption in July or August would be satisfactory.

Suggesting Monday, June 21, as the date for resumption of the hearing, Mr. Mahaffy said: "I will be very much disappointed if we cannot finish the hearing before July 1."

Two members of the staff of the Beulah Home in Edmonton were Government witnesses today. Miss Margaret Lee, registered nurse, and Miss E. G. Hunsperger, secretary, took the stand.

The Beulah Home functions chiefly as a place of confinement for unmarried mothers. Both witnesses declared there is absolutely no pressure brought upon mothers to give up their babies for adoption as alleged in the Whittion report.

They also testified that no instructions to this effect have ever been received from officials of the Alberta Child Welfare Department.

"It's her own choice," as to whether a mother desires to keep her baby or not, Miss Hunsperger said.

Witness said she had met many of the foster parents of adopted babies and had found them in every case to be "the very finest type of people where children would get the very best of care."

Cross-examined by E. D. Arnold, counsel for the Calgary Herald, witness said it "makes no difference whether unmarried girls have money or not" in their treatment at Beulah home.

A majority of the girls at the home come from country districts, she said. An echo of the libel conspiracy cases of last March sounded at the hearing today. Government Counsel Johnson

Airforce Ready For Big Day

Thousands of Edmontonians are expected to see the big RCAF air show at RCAF Station, Edmonton, on Saturday, marking annual Airforce Day.

Arrangements for the show have been completed by officials here, and equipment has been made ready for inspection by the public.

Planes will be speeding across the skies over the airport, putting on one of the best flying displays ever seen here.

Many of the RCAF's aircraft, usually at the Edmonton station, have been thrown into the battle against floods in British Columbia, but officials today assured there would be ample aircraft on hand for a magnificent display.

Shows are also being held at 19 other major RCAF stations from Whitehorse to Halifax.

Show at Vancouver has been cancelled because of the floods.

Ontario Farmers Seek Assistance

Ontario farmers have appealed to the Canadian government for 2,500 farm workers to aid in harvesting crops there, according to officials of the Dominion-provincial farm labor committee in Edmonton today. Recruits accepted for the work will be supplied transportation to Ontario for $10 and will be able to pay a return ticket before August 31 for a similar sum. First movement of workers to the east will get under way on June 15. District agriculturalists throughout Alberta will be supplied with transportation warrants and other details of the project shortly.

Chas. Garnett Heads Citizens' Committee

Charles E. Garnett, a past president of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, was elected chairman of the Citizens' Committee at the annual meeting of the organization held Thursday.

He succeeds J. A. Christiansen who has been chairman for the past two years. Other executive officers elected are: Frank Booth, vice-chairman; D. H. Innes, secretary; J. G. Duncan, treasurer; finance committee, Jack Webber; publicity committee, John McIntyre; campaign chairman, Mrs. J. D. Douglas, and Charles Payne, campaign manager.

Members of the executive committee, in addition to the officers elected, are: Frank Healey, George Prudham, Robert Chapman, Carl E. Berg, Mrs. Phoebe McCullough, W. Hawraik, James Peterson, J. Barbeau, K. D. Lewis, H. E. Merrick, Lin Bell, Winslow Hamilton, J. A. Yarn, and G. W. Haddett. Inadequate street car service to the Calder area was stressed by Lin Bell, resident of the district. He complained also there were many problems of civic administration that had not been satisfactorily dealt with by the present council.

George Prudham, who declined nomination for chairmanship of the organization, stressed the need of a council representative with a thorough knowledge of the building industry. He advocated such a nomination because building and home construction were real problems facing the city.

Hangar Destroyed

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask., June 11.—(CP)—Fire of unknown origin yesterday destroyed the municipally-owned airport hangar here and its contents, causing damage estimated at $15,000. Four planes, two frames, and skis were lost.

The Road to People's Hearts

Harry (Bing) Crosby is at it again. Down Merced, California way the other p.m., The Grosener, as you don't call him to his feet finished off another of his benefit appearances on the links with a fine flourish.

At the 18th green, where as many of the large gallery as could be accommodated were gathered, Crosby knocked down a 30-foot putt for a birdie three.

He finished with a 77 which didn't win him any money. But it didn't matter. The several thousand who saw him batted that putt went home happy.

We are reminded of a shot which Crosby pulled in the final of the Totem Pole tourney at Jasper Park last September. This one was him all the marbles and left Gordon Verley, his opponent in the final, up the track with the rest of the also rans.

Not only that but this particular Crosby KO sock-also was cause for making another golf trophy mighty happy. The one-time Happiness Boy won the clubhouse and the pro shop where Bill Brinkworth and Letty Goldworthy while away many an hour in the filling mountain layout that afternoon.

And if one of his Hollywood writers had dreamed up the finish he couldn't have improved on it, barring, of course, a small session on the weed.

In the Clutch—Terrific!

All day Crosby and the likeable Verley of Victoria had hung tough to one another, with never more than a hole to choose. So they came to the 36th all square. This is the hole at Jasper which takes you downhill to the clubhouse and the pro shop where Bill Brinkworth and Letty Goldworthy while away many an hour in the 18th hole reverie.

Crosby failed to stay on the green with his second and Verley hit his second on the soft side and was short of the target. Verley's third took him to within three feet of the cup. He looked like a clinch par.

The Man From Hollywood, in the meantime, was faced with a tricky third. He, too, had to be stiff to get a par and stay in the running. Crosby's ball lay 20 feet off to the side of the slightly elevated green.

He failed to get his par, alright, for the good reason that he promptly clipped in for a birdie three. It was by all odds the most sensational shot in the long history of the Totem Pole.

The gallery broke through the marshals in wild delight. Who else but a Crosby could have come through like this in the clutch? One hard-bitten looking old gunk had explanation. "He was born under a lucky star."

The Brass Were Worried

Later Bob Hope's cinema cohort gave a bevy of railroad brass hats some cause for concern. It had been arranged that the presentation of prizes was to take place in front of the lodge.

Crosby, of course, was the presentation. At the appointed hour the brass were all in place, seated imposingly behind a long table. One end of the table was loaded down with the beautiful Totem Pole trophy and other payoff loot.

But . . . no Crosby. That worthy was contentedly at ease in a cabin not 100 yards distant, enjoying a loosener with several cronies.

He held up the proceedings for close to a half hour while certain necks behind that table got redder and redder by the minute.

Then, suddenly, he was on the scene, garbed in a mustard-colored guardsmen that he certainly did not come into in one of those walk-up-the-hill-and-save-some, bright colored tie and shirt to match, an expensive two-tone shoe job and—an old relic of a hat.

He was late, that was for sure. But none of the several hundred non-executives gathered before the lodge much cared. In a few words Crosby had them all in his hip pocket. "Canadians," he led with, "are wonderful people!"

Down Merced way that afternoon earlier in the week he simply addressed the crowd with: "Folks, you're marvelous!"

Coaltown a Possible In Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK, June 11. — (AP) — Calumet Farm's role in the Belmont Stakes became as uncertain as the weather Thursday when Jimmy Jones said it was "possible" Coaltown might join Citation in the $100,000 classic and Papa Ben said "no."

This, along with the uncertainty of the field for the 1 1/4-mile gallop, produced a guessing game that probably won't be cleared up until the starter turns them loose Saturday.

As of the moment, the number of horses expected to go against each other in the race was 12. Calumet Farm's Coaltown and Papa Ben's Papa Ben were the only two horses named. The rest were "possible" entries.

Pre-War Baseball Excitement Returns

NEW YORK, June 11.—(CP)—Old-time followers of the National League leaped back and sighed contentedly today. Things were back to normal.

In seven years the sport circuit has shown a disconcerting tendency to fold up while a single team—usually St. Louis Cardinals—can away and hid from the opposition. But Thursday night's results left four teams within a half-point of first place and promised plenty of excitement in the weeks to come, just like it used to be before the war.

BRVES COME UP
Still in first place with a half-game edge were New York Giants, despite a two-game losing streak. Newly-installed in the second spot and coming hard were Boston Braves, who humbled the mighty Cardinals 10-2 to slip past them by a margin of two percentage points.

Pittsburgh Pirates slipped into a tie with the Red Sox by defeating Brooklyn Dodgers 4-1.

The Cardinal pitching, usually effective, fell apart last night as the Braves connected for 17 safeties including home runs by Bob Elliott and Bill Skelton.

Stan Musial's 12th home run produced the only earned run off Johnny Sain as he coasted to his fifth victory of the year.

In the American League, relief pitcher Frank Branan walked in the winning run in the ninth inning with the bases loaded to give St. Louis Senators a 5-4 win over St. Louis Browns.

A SNAP LOSING STREAK
The Detroit pinstriped outfit observed its 10th straight home loss by losing to the Philadelphia Athletics 1-0.

The win sent the Athletics back into a second-place tie with the idle New York Yankees, just three games of the pace-setting Cleveland Indians who blew a 15-7 decision to Beat Red Sox.

The cellar-dwelling Chicago Cubs won their second straight National League victory over the pennant-contending New York Giants, beating them 6-4.

Houlihan's Homer Beats Filipowicz

Precision Mound Ace Hurls
3-Hitter, But Loses 2-1

Leo Durocher once said that a base hit in the clutch wins a lot of ball games. The Lip's Brooklyn Dodgers can't buy many hits, let alone clutch blows, this season, but his words are still true.

Take Thursday night in Kingsway park, for instance. Greenstock 3-1 Filipowicz allowed Precision Mound ace only three hits over the long haul. But one of these was Cee Houlahan's inside-the-park homer in the fifth with one out ahead.

And that potent smash was the difference in the end, as P.M. ace Filipowicz and his RCAF mates 2-1.

Henry Singers, with Don Harkness throwing live-bit ball, trimmed Anavia 3-1 in the first game. Home runs by Stu McCaskill of Singers and Shamus O'Connor from Veis highlighted this game.

Filipowicz deserved a better fate. He whiffed 14 and allowed many single walks. The Jets touched Ted (Chorus Girl) Klenz for five safeties, one of the Bill LaPointe's long trips to centre in the seventh. LaPointe later scored after Joe Danit slugged.

Singers got into Orin Vendall for three hits in the third frame to new up the game with three runs. The McCaskill homer in the fifth and one in the sixth completed Singers' aggregate.

Flies To Victory

Elmer Burgett's pigeon flew the 300 miles from Unity, Sask., to Edmonton in an average speed of 100.61 miles per minute to capture the Capital City Racing Pigeon Club's third race of the old bird series.

Following are the complete results: Burgett, 100.61; McAuley Bros., 105.56; 1049.99; Gausman, 1045.43; Walters, 1045.18; Tetterton, 1060.51; Spratt, 1061.35; Richards, 1067.73; Blinnick, 1068.67.

Another club race, from Unity, will be held Saturday.

Wanted! Somebody
With an 'Adder'

They called it football but it read like basketball, as Utilities edged Police 27-21 in a Civic League fixture Thursday.

No less than 57 hits went into the records counting home runs by Ed Walker and Pat Burns of Police and Tom O'Flaherty of Utilities.

It was the first loss in seven games for the granddams.

Dominion Will Not Influence Nfld.

"Hands-Off" Policy Will Be Continued Toward Govt. Form

By John Leblanc

OTTAWA, June 11.—(CP)—Canada intends to persist in her "hands-off" policy toward Newfoundland's decision on whether or not that colony will enter confederation, official sources said yesterday.

While the Dominion is waiting with keen interest for the outcome of a second plebiscite on the island's political future, it was emphasized here that no attempt will be made by the Dominion to influence the electors in any direction.

The only possibility of Newfoundland leaving from Ottawa, it was stated, will be in the case of a request from that country for explanation of any unclear points in the Dominion's proffered financial terms.

There has been—and will continue to be—no change in the terms from the original offer of last year. But the government here will meet any request for clarification in case there should be any "confusion" among Newfoundlanders.

In the first vote, responsible government, confederation and non-continuance of commission government ran in that order. The next one it is expected, will be on only the first two issues.

Complete returns, except for Labrador, give this standing in the original plebiscite: Responsible Government 69,200; Confederation 63,110; Commission 21,903.

Announce Cause Of Plane Crash

DUBLIN, June 11.—(AP)—Failure to maintain sufficient height during an instrument landing was of tactical nature today as the "principal cause" of Pan-American plane crash that cost 31 lives near Shannon airport last April. The cause was given in a report of a preliminary investigation by the Irish department of industry and commerce into the accident.

Water Supply Cut

ATHENS, June 11.—(AP)—Press dispatches said yesterday guerrillas had cut off the water supply of Ioannina in north Greece by dynamiting a reservoir on nearby Mt. Mitsikeli last night.

Ferry Command Vets Asking War Benefits

OTTAWA, June 11.—(CP)—A civilian force whose fatal war casualties were higher than 20 per cent asked the government yesterday to grant the survivors veterans' rehabilitation benefits.

John Place of Montreal, representing 240 former Ferry Command air crew, testified to the Veterans' committee of the Commons that only one gesture had been made to them by the government. Without had been brought within the Civilian War Pensions Act, but "due to the stringent and unfairly worded means test this has been of little value."

The committee was informed by Brig. J. L. Melville, chairman of the pensions commission, that out of 30 applications by widows of men who died flying warplanes overseas only 16 had been granted pensions. Douglas McVie of Bishop's College, president of the national council of student veterans, said living costs had forced many veterans "to the wall" in their efforts to get through college or the 500 allowance for single and 800 for married men.

On behalf of 641 Red Cross girls who served overseas voluntarily at 23 a week, Marguerite Huetts of Toronto asked rehabilitation benefits equivalent to those for veterans of the women's services.

Murphy Reports On City Hall

By Wm. "Spud" Murphy

Blue print fantasy, of raw lands blooming into carefully contrived residential areas, of delightful quaintness, will become an actuality in Edmonton in the near future.

In two districts, the rectilinear street plan that has been a feature of Edmonton's town planning, will disappear to be replaced by negotiated centres of U-shaped streets flanked and centred by spacious boulevards and walks.

The amenities of our present districts will become the heritage of all citizens if this venture in town planning is successful. These neighbourhood centres will provide an interesting street pattern, without monotony for either pedestrian or motorist.

The areas are planning as self-contained units, providing for residential, park, school, apartment house and shopping districts.

The street layout is designed to discourage through traffic, thus eliminating traffic hazards, dust, and noise.

Creation of these centres will stimulate the spirit of community pride.

Pride will flow from belonging to a neighborhood that has, in its essence, all the essentials of agreeable living.

But there is opposition to community centre planning in high places at the city hall.

It will be hard to displace this deep-rooted rectilinear street plan, and the lowering of the south approach to the 105 street bridge.

Already the cry has gone out that the new idea in town planning will result in excessive cost of utility services.

And there are many other objections along the same line. However, a start has been made on a new deal in town planning. It will afford an excellent opportunity to educate citizens, and education in town planning is badly needed.

It may be that in the not too distant future the planning of our undeveloped districts will be a major election issue.

And while talking of town planning, it is about time that some consideration was given to the dressmaking and tidying-up of sections of our glorious river valley.

Stan Quinn and Bill Plowman, comptroller's department, are holding on tenaciously to the A.

A. Campbell challenge trophy. So far this season they have defeated Sid Smith and Sam Clark, and last Friday repelled the challenge of J. R. Edwards and Duncan McLean on the 18th green.

Vandalism is rampant in city parks and beauty spots. Children seem to take a malicious delight in trampling new-planted flower beds. Parks department executives appeal to parents to curb this tendency in their youngsters.

Recent city council action, alienating a piece of land from the civic centre for general business purposes, may bring repercussions within the ranks of the zoning appeal board and the town planning commission.

S. T. Lawrie, chairman of the zoning board, may tender his resignation at the week end.

At seven o'clock on Monday, the town planning commission is to meet with the idea of getting off that board.

H. M. White, Winnipeg, chief engineer, Dominion Bridge Co., and City Engineer A. W. Haddow are conferring on problems connected with the construction of the new, low level bridge second span, and the lowering of the south approach to the 105 street bridge.

If Edmonton is to become the oil capital of Alberta, business men and city officials will have to work considerably harder than at present. A sure way to take the title from Calgary is to establish a stock exchange in the city. It is an even money bet the city commissioners would go out on a limb to get an exchange here.

Overcrowding at the Civic Block is still the order of the day. Even with two annexes in operation, space shortage at the block is a major problem. Construction of the city hall may be nearer than expected. This is the opinion of some veteran civil servants.

And is the safety engineer's face red these days? Recently backing out of a parking space at the rear of the civic block he side-swiped a fellow employee's car.

11TH POLIO CASE REPORTED TODAY

Dr. A. Somerville, provincial director of communicable diseases, announced today that a new case of poliomyelitis had been reported from Hochford Bridge.

This is the eleventh case in the province since the beginning of the year. This includes one Edmonton case reported to city health officials Wednesday, but not yet brought to the attention of the provincial health branch.

Co-Operatives Show Increase

Number of co-operative enterprises in Alberta increased from 314 to 329 during 1947, according to a report released today by Hon. Dr. J. L. Robinson, minister of industries and labor.

He disclosed the Alberta government's co-operative implementation agency had paid a seven and one-half per cent dividend to customers this year, after doing a $900,000 co-operative implement business, and turning over $1,200,000 worth of other implements.

The implement co-ops have been guaranteed a double quota of farm tools this year, Dr. Robinson said. Of the co-operatives doing business at the end of the year, 143 were consumer co-ops, 61 livestock marketing, 18 livestock feeding, 14 dairy and poultry and 90 sundry.

New Manager 13 Years a Pilot

By Don Kilgus

Six years of teaching others to fly, and 15 years' experience as a pilot is the record behind the Edmonton Flying Club's new manager.

Maurice Fallow, former RCAP flying instructor, intends to go right on teaching others how to operate an aircraft in addition to handling the reins of the club.

During the last two years, since his discharge from the RCAP, Fallow has been instructing at Western Airline Limited, handling many pilots to their private licenses, and later to commercial licenses.

One student he taught to fly in just five days and shortly afterward the new pilot was on his way to Alaska where he has established a flying business.

Fallow first started to fly in 1935 with the Edmonton Aero Club, but his flying activities were purely on a private basis. He entered the RCAP early in 1942 and "learned all over again." After attending instructors' training school at Trenton, he was posted to Hagersville, Ont., as an instructor.

He turned out new pilots at the rate of four every four months for three years.

The new club manager was discharged from the RCAP in October, 1945 and the following January joined Western Airline. He later became a partner in the airline company and was vice-president of that organization when he left to join the Edmonton Flying Club, May 15.

One other full-time instructor, Allan Linn, is employed at the flying club, but Fallow expects to have another one on the job soon.

BUT IT COULD REALLY HAPPEN IN EDMONTON

MINOT, North Dakota, June 11.—(U.P.)—Vancouver motorist Eddie Flynn has been fined $15 here today for his complaint of the bitterly that the streets of the city were "unusually rough."

He was fined for reckless driving on the railroad tracks.

Marler Enroute From Britain

Roy Marler, Edmonton district farmer, and president of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, left England Wednesday as a passenger on the Quana Mary.

Mr. Marler attended the International Federation of Agriculture producers conference in Paris recently as sole Alberta representative.

Delegates representing nearly 5000 farmers attended the sessions.

Reports indicate farmers, the world over are prepared to expand production, but fear a break-down in systems of distribution and in world food price structure.

Parking Meters Here Will Cost $63,623

City Would Get Half Revenue Until Paid

Parking meters for installation in Edmonton will be supplied by the M-Co Meter Co. (Montreal), if a recommendation of the utilities committee is confirmed by city council.

Members of the committee recommended that 854 meters be purchased from the company for installation in the shopping centres on the north and south side of the river.

Cost of the meters installed is $63,623. Each meter is priced at $69.50. The installation charge is $5.

The meters can be installed within 30 days of receipt of order. The terms of purchase are that the city will receive 50 per cent of all proceeds from date of installation until the meters are finally paid for.

The meters are to be installed for a minimum period of one year for trial purposes.

Commissioners informed aldermen that it will be necessary to institute an advertising campaign to acquaint the public with the use of meters.

It will also be necessary to either bring here an expert in repair and maintenance of meters, or else send a civic employee to the factory for instruction in maintenance and repair work. Cost will be borne by the company.

The meters will be installed on Jasper Avenue between 90 and 101 streets; 101A Avenue between 90 and 101 streets; 102 Avenue between 100 and 105 streets; 100 Street between Jasper and 102 Avenue; 100A Street between Jasper and 102 Avenue; 101 Street between 100 and 103 Avenue; 100 Street between Jasper and 102 Avenue; and on Whyte Avenue between 103 and 105 streets.

Jean Pritchard Weds Norman Alfred Lesson

A quiet wedding took place in the vestry of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church recently when Miss Edna Jean Pritchard became the bride of Norman Alfred Lesson.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pritchard of Edmonton and the bridegroom is the youngest son of Mrs. J. Jandel of Manville.

Rev. G. F. Foy performed the ceremony.

The bride's wedding costume was a gray wool gabardine suit with which she wore black and white accessories and a corsage of red roses and Stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a pair of white pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss June Dunbar was maid-of-honor and Miss Robinson was bridesmaid.

Leonard Pritchard and James Pritchard, brothers of the bridegroom, were best men.

At a reception following the ceremony, the mothers of the couple received the 100 guests. Mrs. Pritchard wore an afternoon model of black crepe, styled on simple lines, and a corsage of red roses. Mrs.

This past season has seen much controversy of the question of east versus west in the fashion picture.

Easterlies, with their easy accessibility to New York and Montreal style centres, assume a superior air when discussing the clothes-consciousness of women across Canada.

They dress western women—any one west of Toronto, that is—as too casual, too backward and too "simple and homespun" to care a great deal.

But the pioneer days were over long ago and western women have emerged from the old Mother Hubbard to present a picture of the well-dressed, well-groomed woman of today.

Right in our own little thriving metropolises we see the tricycles of junior mistresses, coquettish girls, young matrons and the women of the "irresponsible middle-ages" fashion-wise and clothes-conscious.

More than the flowers and shrubs blossom in the early summertime. Trees, garden parties, receptions bring the beautiful clothes of our well-dressed women into the pretty-as-a-picture scene.

Mrs. E. W. S. Kane, always gracious and charming, made a picture in a smart brown and white print dress, styled on simple flowing lines and accented with a brown and white straw topper.

Long knotted string of white beads finished the costume.

The dark-haired attractiveness of Mrs. Mervyn Stewart, the former Wylo Swingle, was augmented with a navy blue silk dress fashioned with long torso and a large bow just below the neckline.

Navy blue dress, pumps and a navy blue hat were the punctuation marks of her costume.

Miss Bernice Mellett made an eye-catching entrance at a recent tea as a beauty paragon in a dress with a black background. Tiny sailor of black feathers and black gloves and shoes were her accessory choices.

Beautifully tailored cinnamon brown silk mesh dress, white crepe piping of white piping at neck, line and sleeve edge, was worn by Mrs. J. Day with a white, lace straw off-the-face hat.

Elegant simplicity was the keynote of this frock.

Fabulous Wedding Gifts
For Present-Day Brides

By Bea Thrifty

Everyone loves a bride! And you can certainly tell when you go to some of the trousseau tents held for our blushing June brides.

Gifts which would furnish a palace, which would make a gift-shop look slightly undernourished.

Everything imaginable which would delight and be of use to a young couple starting their own little vine-covered cottage.

And the silver... beautiful gleaming, richly patterned silver which would give a "second-storey" man the lacy-jebbies.

Linen, intricate cut-work, delicate embroidery, dainty lace edgings and inserts, crisp beautifully hem-stitched sheets, gay tea-towels and mellow-pastel-colored fluffly towels.

Oooh... it certainly makes you think.

One wedding gift for that couple who have simply everything! A huge album of their favorite records... Or a brightly polished aluminum thermos-decote.

This is shaped round like a pumpkin and boasts the fact that it will keep foodstuffs at desired temperatures.

Hot or cold—any way you want it—and this pumpkin keeps the whole business right in the 4th degree of temperature.

Then another set of pottery: a relish dish, cheese dish, teapot and another which might be a cookie jar, all designed in intricate detail as little thatched-roof cottages.

Colors are beautifully blended and the whole effect is much more than charming.

Yet another heart-stopper is a dual set of silver-plated—suspiciously like antiques.

Richly patterned silver, designed with tall graceful stems and daintily shaped bowls—a delight for any formal table setting.

A shower-gift charmer was a pair of saucy little aprons—one for the bride—one for the bride groom with a suggestive double entendre on the pockets.

This would be an inexpensive make-it-yourself gift that would win the affection of your bride-to-be friends.

Been practicing for years—but I just can't cut an even slice of bread. So I had me off to a hardware department, gave the man $1.49 and took home a special bread knife.

It has an adjustable guide that does a fine job of keeping the slices even.

The inevitable has happened. As if prices weren't high enough, overall picture of consumer prices of meat show an increase of ten cents a pound during the first month.

It's going to take a powerful lot of penny-pinching and pound juggling to stretch that food allowance enough to keep your family well-fed and happy.

With lettuce still selling at a price that makes you wince—until cabbage—which sells at 3c or so a pound.

In salads such as chicken, tuna fish, salmon, shredded cabbage mixed with the flaked meat gives a crisp, tangy taste that's slightly different from lettuce but equally palatable.

Money-sweet, delicately tinted regal strawberries shush-bones their head high above the strictly peasant cousin—green rhubarb. It's tops for flavor and sweetness.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Family Goat Suffers
For Other Children

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—My mother-in-law has six sons and four daughters. They are all married but one son, who takes care of her and the expenses of their apartment, which amounts to very little, but she still needs money for little odds and ends.

I am married to her eldest son, who makes a fair salary, and we are pinching and skimping to try to get enough money together to buy a home, but instead of my modern-law getting all of her children together and asking each for a few dollars a week, when they can well afford to give her, she keeps taking as much as $6 and $7 a week from my husband alone.

Do you think this is fair? I would like to have children and a place of my own, but she takes all of our savings.

The younger brothers and sisters have children and apartments of their own and my chicken-hearted husband is the only one who comes around with money.

Why should a mother bleed her oldest son and let the others go free?

A Cheated Daughter-in-Law. ANSWER: There is no justification for a mother playing favorites and sacrificing one child for the benefit of others, but there is hardly a family in which it is not done. Generally it is the oldest son and daughter who are elected the family scapegoats, who are put to work as soon as they can push a baby's perambulator, and who spend the balance of their lives toiling to support their brothers and sisters.

UNFAIR PRACTICE. All of us know dozens of cases where pretty girls were kept from marrying and ambitious boys deprived of the opportunity of following the career that nature fitted them for, because Mother wanted to give her fair-haired darlings the luxuries they craved.

There is nothing more shameful in all of human relationship than that the members of a family who have climbed to prominence on the backs of their brothers and sisters, so often refuse to hand out a helping hand to them.

Yes, if you will notice, it is always poor Billy or poor John or when Mother and Father are wind-up, while the prosperous sons and daughters go scot-free.

And that job of it is that the whole tragedy could be averted if all the children would chip in and do their part.

Masons Conclude Annual Meet. After a two day convention at the Edmonton Masonic Temple, 560 members of Alberta Grand Lodge met in the W. A. Henry of Lacombe and George Moore of Calgary as guest speakers.

Before the conclusion of their session, the members of the organization were selected for the coming year.

In his address at Wednesday night's banquet, John Stoen, DCM, Rilla, North Dakota, reviewed the many achievements of Masons during the past year.

Visitors to the convention included Grand Lodge members from Ontario, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

The next annual gathering will be held at Calgary.

Part of Janis Carter's relaxing exercise is to place cotton pads that have been dipped in ice water over the eyes while resting. "The value of short rest periods during the day is unbelievable."

WHY GROW OLD

Rest Is Necessary—
Fatigue Accumulates

Fatigue is accumulative. How long an individual can push himself along, with enthusiasm and energy, without giving nature a chance to recoup, or how long he can short change himself on sleep and get away it, depend upon the individual.

However, there is always a payoff! This may come years later in the form of great depression, irritability, impotence, chronic fatigue, disease which pounced when resistance forces were low, or a complete nervous breakdown.

The policy of over-exercising in energy is so foolish, because the repercussions may bring about physical conditions from which we may never fully recover and the time required to recover from a severe physical crashup more than accounts for the time stolen from sleep and relaxation in order to "do this or that."

Having fun? Enjoying your work? Too enthusiastic to slow down? Fine! But life is a question of choices. Had you rather enjoy a few hectic years or 80 or 90 years of joyful well-integrated living?

It is downright stupid to think of oneself as different from other human beings because the laws of nature are immutable and sooner or later you will pay the price, and when looking back from your bed of pain, or deep melancholia, backache or kidney fatigue, you will wonder how you could have been so short sighted in the face of repeated warnings from nature herself and from those who know about such things.

Yet, all of the time, we see persons killing themselves off, with the greatest aplomb! Take this step further and say that you have no reason to fear a physical breakdown but that you do more than you should and are tired most of the time. Well, this is the first step toward destruction.

It is like the drinker who realizes he has a tendency to drink more than he should but will not admit to himself that he is in danger. The greatest threat to health is the admitting the peril to oneself, and taking appropriate measures.

Unless you try it, the result of short rest periods during the day—even one a day—is unbelievable. Fifteen minutes, taken before you are too tired to recover quickly, will bring a re-charge in energy that will surprise you.

When you take this rest period make it complete. Loosen tight clothing, lie down in a darkened room, take the telephone off the hook, close your eyes and go limp from head to toe. Do not worry about your troubles at this time.

It will be a great help if you will place eye pads over your eyes. These may be dark or simply cotton pads soaked in ice cold water.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 50 "Pep," which gives you suggestions for building energy, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Children Take Note
Of Nature in Summer

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The summer period can be more than just a period of heat, insects and vacations.

It can be a season in which children use their leisure time to learn about the wonders of the world in which they live.

This is a good time in which to devote an afternoon to taking the children to a factory or hatchery, a mill, the bus and railroad terminals, or to see the rivers and the boats.

This is a good time to make frequent visits to the Zoo—if you are fortunate enough to have one near by—and to go on picnics, to the circus and on trips in the parks and woods.

The face of nature may be closed to the child who has no alert parent to make him acquainted with it. The child sees birds, yes, but does he take time to listen to their hum-like chatter, to watch them build their nests, to coddle their young, to engage in all the fascinating activities of their daily lives? Probably not unless someone points these out to him.

The child is eager for the fantastic in books, movies and radio. Yet the life cycles of the living things around him possess their own magic and mystery and it is a good time to make the child aware of them.

He may look at the heavens nightly, but does he understand its stupendous history, and he see this world in relation to all those others so close to the eye, so hidden to him by time and space? The child can look at it, or he can see it, and there is no time like the summer in which to lie on the grass and gaze upwards at the stars and come closer to their Creator.

The grains in the field may be just as many leaves and stalks blowing in the wind until some parent helps the child to see the dramatic sequence from seed to plant to cereal and bread on the family table.

Children grow closer to their parents when they can ask and be answered. They feel an increasing respect for their knowledge and confidence in their wisdom. It is wholesome to look, ponder and learn together.

Jean Pritchard Weds Norman Alfred Lesson

A quiet wedding took place in the vestry of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church recently when Miss Jean Pritchard became the bride of Norman Alfred Lesson.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pritchard of Edmonton and the bridegroom is the youngest son of Mrs. J. Jandel of Minnville.

Rev. C. T. Trower performed the ceremony.

The bride's wedding costume was a gray wool suit with white accessories and a corsage of red roses and Stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a pair of white gold earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss June Dunbar was matron of honor and Miss Hollman was bridesmaid.

Leonard Pritchard and James Pritchard, brothers of the bridegroom, were best men.

At a reception following the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom couple received the 100 guests. Mrs. Pritchard wore an afternoon model in black crepe with a white collar and a corsage of red roses. Mrs.

This past season has seen much controversy of the question of east versus west in the fashion picture.

Easterners, with their easy accessibility to New York and Montreal, have been able to secure a superior air when discussing the clothes-consciousness of women across Canada.

"They class western women—any one west of Toronto, that is—too casual, too backward and too 'simple and homespun' to care a grain of dust."

But the pioneer days were over long ago and western women have emerged from the old skin. They have to present a picture of a well-dressed, well-groomed woman of today.

Right in our own little thriving metropolises we see the tricycle set, junior misses, coeds, white-collar girls, young matrons and the women of the "gracious middle-years" fashion-wise and clothes-conscious.

More than the flowers and shrubs blossom in the early summertime. Trees, garden parties, receptions bring the beautiful clothes of the well-dressed women into the pretty-as-a-picture scene.

Mrs. E. W. S. Kane, always gracious and charming, made a picture in a smart brown and white print dress, styled on simple flowing lines and accented with a brown and white straw topper. Long, knotted string of white beads finished the costume.

The dark-haired attractiveness of Mrs. Mary Stewart, the former Wyle Swetlow, was augmented with a navy blue silk dress fashioned with long tulle and a large bow just below the hipline.

Navy blue clock pumps and a navy blue hat with blue and white marks of her costume.

Miss Herbie Meloth made an eye-catching entrance at a recent tea in a brightly patterned silk dress with a black background. Long sailor of black feathers and black gloves and shoes were her accessory choice.

Beautifully tailored cinnamon brown silk mesh dress with coral, coral piping of white pure at neck, line and sleeve edge, was worn by Miss Judy Day with a white, light straw off-the-neck hat.

Adapted simplicity was the key-note of this frock.

SOMETHING OLD at wedding of Mrs. Eugene Gori in Chicago was ancient Model T roadster from which she tossed her wedding bouquet to bridesmaids. Something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue was accomplished by use of several such cars. They were both old, and borrowed and one was blue. Idea was new.

Bride Wed In White Satin

Miss Eva Adams became the bride of Donald James Gorchewinski in a recent ceremony at Sacred Heart Church performed by Mgr. M. J. O'Gorman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Adams of White, Sask., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gorchewinski of Clive.

White satin was the bride's choice for her wedding dress which was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. Her full-length veil fell softly over the full skirt of her gown and she carried a bouquet of Tulleman roses.

Miss Lena Adams was bridesmaid and Andrew Adams was best man. Miss Marie Ryan played the wedding music.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the Embassy Room which was decorated with bouquets of carnations, gladioli and roses.

Receiving the guests, Mrs. Adams, mother of the bride, wore a green

Chorley Christmas Vows Pledged Here

Rectory of Sacred Heart Church was the scene of the recent wedding of Dorothy Ida Christmas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Christmas and Gordon Chorley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Chorley.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father McNally.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of pink crepe styled with long sleeves, shawl collar and full skirt. Her accessories were in navy blue and she wore a corsage of white gladioli centred with pink carnations. Marguerite Christmas was her two-piece suit with a corsage of roses. Mrs. Gorchewinski chose for her son's wedding a suit of powder blue with which she wore matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Margie O'Gorman proposed the toast to the bride.

The couple will take up residence at 11505 96 street. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. E. Gorchewinski, Clive; Mrs. Wilham Bromish, Minto; Miss Irene Deek, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harrison and Frank Harrison, all of Lacombe.

Irish Linen Togs Have Crisp Touch

Colorful Linens Are Favorites

For Sun-Happy Summer Frocks

Irish linen, the fabric of the tropics, makes high-styled accessories which add their crisp touch to costumes this summer.

From head to toe accents of the heat-defying linen give that cool, collected look. Jackets, hats, bags, parasols and shoes of linen fill stellar roles in best-designer fashion showings. Linen sandals and pumps write fashion's footnotes in chic white. If a girl wants to carry her costume color down to the ground, she can have white shoes dyed to match.

As ready to oblige a lady's whimsy is the linen parasol which will spread its charms in white or take dyes to match a summer dress.

Hats of linen bridge the millinery gap between the veil-slung bonnet and the tailored beret. One outstanding beret, as tailored as a French sailor's, has a headband of black or navy blue linen and a piping to match. A jaunty skimmer like this responds to the assembling needs of cover-up, and dresses of navy blue or black linen which are usually touched up with white.

Fabric handbags take fashion cues from their betters of tailored leather. As far as handbags go from glossy "envelopes" and slip-covered affairs, the new style in linen goes. The smartest are corduroyed with fine tufts which permanently pressed give texture interest and provide more resistance to soil.

Linen jackets designed to shrug off the heat rival the colors of garden blooms. Simply styled jackets, which range in type from long-torso sheaths to pert boleros, owe their dash to such colors as jonquil yellow, geranium pink or lilac. Any one of these is qualified to crisp up the wilted look of city black or navy dresses.

If your stone or brick fireplace is smoke-smudged and dirty from winter use, it can be cleaned by scrubbing with a strong soap and hot water.

New Color-Concentrate for Lips

Now Lady Esther has discovered how to concentrate color so that it never deserts your lips in patches... never piles up in a ring. It goes through dinner, through the evening with real color beauty. Seven shades.

Romantic Wedding Traditions Remain

"The Bride Wore Traditional White" Symbolizes Sweetness and Beauty

"New Looks" and "Old Looks" may come and go but the romantic tradition of the wedding gown remains basically unchanged through the ages.

Gowns are as beautiful and romantic as ever, and maybe a little more so.

While satin and ancestral lace remain favorites for formal church weddings, but imported organdy is a close runner-up.

The bride may choose between regal and dignified styles with long, tight sleeves and princess lines and the youthful simplicity of a less formal mode, with short sleeves, round neckline, less elaborate trim.

She may have a floor-length veil of old lace or she may choose the more modern headpiece of tulle and flowers, made by a milliner. The practical bride may even choose a wedding gown which may double as a dance dress later on.

To achieve this double-duty purpose, she usually cuts off the train after the wedding, and may even have the gown dyed a pastel tint.

Fashions in wedding rings run range to diamonds this year, with the narrow diamond bands in great demand. Wide bands of either yellow gold, platinum or palladium also are being used a great deal.

With or without jeweled settings, there also is a trend to build up the front of the wedding band for greater display of the small diamonds used.

This year, June brides will walk the aisle trailing as much nylon and cotton as traditional satin. A nylon wedding dress with a satin bodice in pale pink and blue satin has been a distinct favorite of the brides this year.

The nylon resembles marquisette but it hangs in softer folds. The favorite nylon dress billows gracefully out from the satin bodice, with a laced waist under the skirt to show off its fullness.

Another style for the bride who wants something different is the white net dress with a satin corset belt laced at the waist. The dress has a round, low neck with tiny

Beauty Aids For Honeymoon Bride

Beauty aids that travel well—without breaking, spilling or taking up valuable packing space—are the solution to the vacationer's problem.

Stay-at-homes can also enjoy the luxury of bubble bath soakers, an all-purpose brush kit, and a small size cosmetic kit, according to McCall's, which lists other grooming tricks in the May issue.

Indispensable for travel: Rub de-rubbed bag. Carry it or pack it holds all necessities. Bath sponge of fine textured rubber is extra absorbent and dries with one squeeze.

Nail care kit in snapshot, flat plastic box holds all basic manicure items.

All-important sunglasses with optically ground lenses in gas plastic frames. Zippered brush kit holds hairbrush, clothes comb, change purse, mirror. Tailor in non-breakable flexible plastic. Squeeze it, powder sprays out.

For travel or home use: Bubble bath that softens skin and water is compressed into wafers for neat packing. Wash cloths in disc form. One unfolds into two scented cloths when held in water. Shiny metal boxes for your pins. Lined with velvet, marked with boldness.

Squeeze-saving size for cologne: small lightweight flacon tucks away easily.

Offered sleeves and a train that billows from the beaded satin corset.

Fine Detailed Planning Creates Perfect Wedding

Happy is the bride who bows gracefully to the quaint customs and time-honored conventions that symbolize the wedding day.

Happy is the bride who makes a close study of the do's and don'ts of bridal traditions.

Perfect timing—finely detailed planning—expert advice and assistance—all add to a beautiful serene wedding.

Invitations for a private wedding should be written by the bride. As a formal wedding they are engraved, not printed.

Invitations should be mailed three weeks before the ceremony. An announcement is engraved and mailed the day following the wedding. Invitations may invite the guests in the church ceremony or to the reception or to both.

Day of the wedding is a time of easily strained nerves. Timing is vital. The bride should arrive at the ceremony and guests should arrive not later than fifteen minutes before the ceremony.

The bridegroom and best man arrive at the twenty fifteen minutes before the hour.

Parents of the bridegroom and immediate family of the bride come five minutes before the ceremony.

The bride with her father or her relative reaches the church two minutes before the ceremony.

Bridal attendants meet at the home of the bride one hour before the ceremony and precede her to the church.

Severals of other details are to be seriously considered before the completion of plans for that perfect wedding ceremony.
